1. Dawson Precision Conversion and Lights/Holsters for Kimber Pistols: (25 @ $360 each): $9,000 - An add-on rail adapter which will allow the use of a standard Surefire handgun light to be used on the currently issued Kimbers. This will give the SWAT Team a more reliable and brighter light when dealing with night or low light situations.

2. Tactical Folding Ladder 12 Feet: (4 @ $551 each): $2,204 - A compact ladder that can be carried to an entry or observation point, yet be long enough to provide access, for use by the SWAT Team.

3. Hooligan Tools: (2 @ $280 each): $560 - The SWAT Team currently has two Hooligan Tools, sufficient for a typical building entry, but not enough for events such as a bus assault. In order to perform this task, two more are needed.

4. Backpack with Entry Tools: (2 @ $550 each): $1,100 - Currently, the entry tools currently utilized by the SWAT Team are required to be carried individually This set of tools will allow a member to carry Bolt Cutters, Sledgehammer, and Hooligan Tool on the back and still utilize the hands for weapons use or to carry a Ram. This will greatly enhance the team's ability to make even the most difficult entry easier.

5. Camelbak "Mule": (25 @ $90 each) $2,250 - Hydration is a main concern when wearing the WMD masks and suits the SWAT Team use. The Camelbak system is compatible with many gas masks and SCBA masks. This will allow the members to perform tasks longer and safer than otherwise able.

6. Magellan GPS Sportrack Pro: (10 @ $280) $2,800 - Used for land navigation in wooded or rural areas, team movements can be exact and predictable. This number would provide each sniper and team leader/squad leader a device. This particular model includes a base map and can be uploaded with a simple software upgrade to a much more detailed map, including topographical maps.

7. Magellan GPS Sportrack Pro Software Upgrade: (10 @ $80) $800 - Topographic map software upgrade for handheld GPS units.
