Dear Builder:

In order to ensure construction in Leon County complies with applicable wind loading requirements, effective December 1, 1996, all building permit applications submitted for a site built single family dwelling (not prepared under the seal of an architect or engineer) must include a complete specification sheet. Your cooperation in this matter is greatly appreciated and will ensure that your building permit application is processed in the most efficient and timely matter possible.

Should you have any questions concerning the specification sheet or if you require other assistance regarding this issue, please contact a plans examiner at the above listed number.

Your Public Servant,

Ray Burroughs
Building Inspection Director
